Hermanus visit by Terry Volker:

I flew into Cape Town on the 6 April for my Rhodesian Oriel girls school 45th year reunion held in Hermanus. I also had the opportunity of visiting our past SAAFA LSC chairman Ken Bannister and his wife Linda who relocated there to build a home and finally retire.

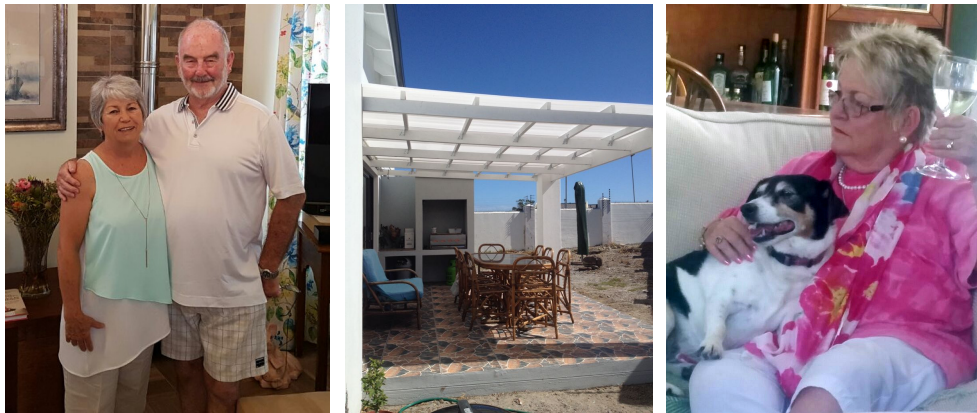

They welcomed me and some of my pals on the Saturday afternoon to their lovely home in the 'Avenues Estate' where we partook in a few vineyard refreshments.

Their home is beautiful and cosy and the garden is a big challenge for Linda. Since returning home I have heard that the turf has been laid and Ken has had a loft installed in the high ceiling of the lounge for his office.

They have three cheerful, friendly dogs. One, Taffy, a Heinz 57 special rescue dog, took a fancy to me.

They have been in their newly built home for 4 months and are still unpacking... an endless challenge when one looks in the double garage. They send their love and best wishes to all and miss the comradeship. They also asked me to invite all visitors to Hermanus to look them up for a glass of wine or a cuppa.

Cheers From Terry Volker

When the winds of change are blowing
Some people build walls.
And some build windmills.

Be patient! Things happen in their own time.
The windmill does not go and look for the wind!
